University of Sydney – Become an Occupational Therapist

19 August. 4.30pm

Occupational therapists are experts in the everyday. We help people overcome barriers that prevent them from doing the activities (occupations) that they want to do or need to do in their everyday lives. These barriers could be caused by disability, injury, health conditions, ageing or other life circumstances or they could be caused by the environments in which people live or work. Occupational therapists come from the perspective of “What matters to you?” not “What’s the matter with you?” We focus on what is most important for each individual, group or community we work with – so this makes a career in occupational therapy challenging, exciting and rewarding. Join us for this webinar and explore where a career in occupational therapy could take you

Simulated UCAT Day Workshop: 2-Day program

16 August. 10am to 6pm

and 17 October. 10am to 6pm

Are you in year 10, 11 or 12 and considering a career in medicine or dentistry?

Then you are invited to attend and participate in our "Simulated UCAT Day".

This event will be conducted by the National Institute of Education in partnership in partnership with UCAT Preparation Australia, MICAS (Medical Interviews and Career Advice Services), & PTTI (ProTraining Tutorial Institute).

The workshop was primarily designed to cover fundamental techniques in navigating all five sections of the UCAT test and also participants to gain a better understanding of their own level of preparedness for the test. However, over the course of the years the program has evolved into a much more comprehensive and holistic exercise, which not only achieves its primary goal, but it is also exposing students to a wealth of knowledge about all other aspects of the journey into a medical degree. The latest update has seen the program grow into a 2-Day event as the sheer amount of content covered was too great to fit into a 1-day program.

Student Life in the Tertiary World

Choosing what to study and where to study is really just the tip of the iceberg. Once you've finally made the big decision and turned up for your first day, student life is everything that follows. Your time as a student is a whole lot more than just showing up to class and displaying a diploma on your wall. Rather, it's about the complete picture and what you get out of your experience, including minor ups and downs and the general challenges that come with taking time out to complete post-compulsory education.

How to get Industry Experience While You are Still Studying

It's never too early to start thinking about getting your foot in the door. Whether it's through an internship, volunteering, work experience or a combination of all three, getting ahead is entirely possible while you're still studying.

Eating for the Planet

18 August. 6.30pm

Is it possible to feed a future population of 10 billion people a healthy diet within planetary boundaries? Four years ago, this question was posed to a group of doctors and dieticians from all over the world, and their response became the Planetary Health Diet – a way of eating created by scientists to bring together the health needs of humans with what our planet can afford.

By exploring simple food principles, the Planetary Health Diet charts a way to solve major health issues, and balance human needs with our impact on the environment in the age of climate change. Join public health advocate and CEO of VicHealth Sandro Demaio for a keynote talk, followed by a panel discussion with Alexandra Jones from The George Institute for Global Health, clinical dietician Jennifer Cohen and director of That Sugar Film, Damon Gameau as they discuss how we can all eat better and contribute to a healthier world.
