

Australian Independent Schools Fund's (AISF) Flood Relief Appeal

We have all seen the devastating impact of the flood disaster on coastal communities in NSW. These areas are home to over 100 regional Independent schools and tens of thousands of students, who are part of our wider Independent schools community.

Many have experienced damage to their homes and have lost school equipment such as laptops, books and uniforms.

They need our support now.

You can directly support affected students now by clicking on this link to donate to the Australian Independent Schools Fund's (AISF) Flood Relief Appeal.

All donations over $2 are tax deductible and a receipt will be generated and emailed to you automatically.

The AISF has no administrative costs; every dollar donated will go directly to supporting flood-affected students and will be distributed to families within days.

The AISF was established in 2017 by the Association of Independent Schools of NSW to provide tax deductible financial donations directly to disadvantaged students, including those needing emergency relief due to natural disasters such as bushfires, floods and storms.

In 2020, the AISF distributed more than $600,000 directly within days to 176 families who had suffered catastrophe in the summer bushfires. A further $263,700 went directly to 76 families impacted by storms and floods the same year. This funding was delivered to affected families within days and their gratitude was overwhelming.

Remember - every dollar you give will go to affected students within days of their needs being identified.
