

Theatre BootCamp is now free as part of Youth Week.

In this three-hour masterclass, you'll work with experienced shake & stir actors to explore new acting styles, meet new people, and have fun. This is the perfect opportunity for any young adult to try something new - building confidence on and off stage, and developing important skills such as resilience, teamwork and creativity.

Limited to 35 students so book now before it's too late.

